

A Commonwealth Day Message from our Patron The Right Worshipful The Mayor of Bath

As Patron of the Royal Commonwealth Society I value so much the work that is done, and think it is even more important now that we retain an international outlook. My theme for the year is 'Combatting Loneliness', and this transcends any national borders. I am sorry we have not been able to meet up this year, I hope to do so when it is allowed, and on behalf of the City of Bath, wish all connected with the RCS the very best, and thanks for all you do.

Councillor Manda Rigby
